

What is the Study Edge Course Contact position?

- The Study Edge Course Contact position is a semester-long paid position opportunity that allows you to get paid to go to class. Course Contacts will work directly with Study Edge, an education technology company that delivers academic resources to more than 500,000 students annually across K-12 and higher education. Specifically, Course Contacts will directly engage on a weekly basis with the Study Experts who deliver Review Sessions, Practice Exams, and more to thousands of UF students every semester.
- The Course Contact position is open to all UF students, of any class or any major - you just need to be enrolled in one of the 30+ UF courses that Study Edge covers:

What does the position entail?

- You have to go to class, right? Might as well get paid to do it! All you have to do is take great notes and share class information with the Study Experts for your course.
- Study Experts may ask you questions about specific resources or topics related to the class, as well as general student opinion on topics, so you'll need to be involved in group chats and keep an eye out to see what other students are saying.

What are the benefits of the position?

- You will receive a free Study Edge Diamond membership during your position semester, as well as $150 for the entire semester ($75 half-way through the semester, and $75 at the end). If you put in the extra effort, you will also be eligible to receive bonus pay at the end of the semester!
- After completing the position, you will receive priority when Study Edge is hiring for part-time and full-time positions!

How can I apply?

- You can find more information, including the link to the application at <https://studyedge.com/coursecontact>. Applicants are admitted on a rolling basis.
- The position is only available for the 30+ UF courses that Study Edge covers, but we're constantly updating the list on the application, so be sure to check that out!
- The position is open to all students, of all years and majors.
